encompassing Bajrabarahi, Daman, Kulekhani, Markhu, Palung and Shimbhanjyang. Under the supervision of Mr U Upadhyay and Prof RR Niroula, the students in groups have collected data for estimating various development indicators viz Human Development Index, Human Poverty Index and Gini Index. They also linked the field data with the Millennium Development Goals, Sustainable Development Goals and Sustainable Livelihood Models. The local communities happily cooperated with the faculties and students, since the regular field studies conducted by the National College have been beneficial to them.

SUSTAINING DEVELOPMENT

Implementation is a major challenge for development concepts including the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). To achieve the SDGs, the Government of Nepal has emphasized on scaling up of investment along with the capable human resources. There are also numerous organizations dedicated for development. They include 40,000+ nongovernmental organizations, 250+ international nongovernmental organizations, 10+ donor organizations, and 30+ government ministries and their departments. Similarly, there are 27+ registered financial institutions and 20,000+ cooperatives dedicated for development finance. All they need is the right persons who understand the fundamentals of development theories along with other subsidiary fields.

National College's endeavor of launching academic programs is primarily to create human resources appropriate for the sustainable development. The three programs namely the Bachelor of Development Studies (BDevS), Bachelor of Development Finance (BDFin), and Bachelor of Social Sciences (BoSS) have been recognized for the integrated approaches consolidating the key elements of sustainable development.

CELEBRATING 20TH ANNIVERSARY

On May 23, 2016, students, faculties, staff and friends of National College gathered at the college premise to mark the 20th years of its establishment. Outlining the innovative education of Development Studies, Development Finance and Social Sciences, the college has been successfully running the bachelor programs affiliated to Kathmandu University. Delivering his congratulatory address, Dr Suresh Raj Sharma, Former Vice Chancellor of Kathmandu University, had explicitly mentioned that KU had taken pride in the success of the National College.

Following the unveiling of the huge logo banner of the 20th anniversary, Principal Madhav P Neupane expressed that the present position of the College had been the outcome of dedicated faculties, and the hard works of you graduates.

On the occasion, Mr Gopal Gaire and Mr Mukund Baral have been felicitated for their continued and dedicated works for the advancement of the college. Mr Gaire has been teaching and updating the courses on Nepali language since the establishment of the college. Similarly, Mr Baral has been serving as an office helper since 2002.

In the evening, reunion of the ex-students was joyously organized. As many as 143 ex-students representing the first batch graduated in 2002 through the 15th batch graduated in 2015 joined the reception party that was made lively with musical performance.

MONITORING AND EVALUATION OF NAGARKOT PROJECT

Ujjwal Upadhyay

A monitoring and evaluation study of the Nagarkot project has been successfully accomplished with lots of good results. Under the technical guidance of faculty member Mr Ujjwal Upadhyay, the study team comprising of six girl-students (AR Singh, U Shakya, K Lamsal, A Basnet, P Thapaliya) performed the field survey on July 18 and 19 where all beneficiaries were accessed and interviewed.

Agya Basnet with the project beneficiary, Pujya Maya Tamang

The project was conceived in 2016 with an objective to help the earthquake victims through income generation activities. It was supported by the Nepal Japan Students' exchange program (a joint venture of National College, Waseda University and the University of Scared Heart) and National College Welfare Fund after the post disaster need assessment (PDNA) study was commenced in July 2015 after the April 25, 2015 earthquake. Upon conduction of the PDNA, a fund was generated by the aforementioned institutions and thus utilized to support earthquake victims through provision full scholarships to 25 students of Kalika School, and goats distribution to 21 local women (13 of them are single) in March 2016. Similarly, eight goats were distributed to the disaster hit families in Daman in June 2016.

The M&E study revealed that two goats have already given birth to baby goats and four more are on the verge of giving births. The financial valuation of the goats in four months has gone high with 215 percent. Beneficiaries (women) were found more confident and empowered with the belief that they can do something to uplift their socioeconomic conditions. Plus, scholarships have played a good role to enhance the academic performance of students. Students, comprising higher grades like 8, 9 and 10, were found improving their academic grades along with confidence level and their participation in extracurricular activities as they have understood the value of scholarship. Fifteen students comprising to this level have been found capitalizing this opportunity pretty well. The detailed report of both these studied will be produced soon. The study team had five National College students and one faculty member who will be participating in Summer Project 2015 in Tokyo Japan for 11 days from August 3 to 12. They will be participating in various projects and seminars conducted by Waseda, University, university of Scared Heart and Sokedai University. Add to this, they will also be visiting various prominent industrial and farming sites.

MEANINGFUL MOMENTS OF MAKWANPUR FIELD STUDIES

June 21, Titung, Makwanpur

On behalf of the National College and the Nepal-Japan Project Alumni Team, Prof RR Niroula, Mr Ujjwal Upadhyay and the students of BDevS (2015-19 Batch) distributed seven goats to the earthquake affected poor people, and also the user group members of the Chulipran Community Forest (CCF), Tistung, Makwanpur. One goat was donated by the group of students of BDevS (2015-19 Batch) Section A. President of Sana Kisan Rural Credit and Cooperative Limited at Bajrabarahi appreciated the College for distributing goats to the poor families. So far, 29 goats have been distributed under this program including 21 in Nagarkot, Bhaktapur in March 2016.

Marking the 20th anniversary of the College, as many as 53 students, faculties and staff joined with the CCF members in planting out 120 tree saplings of different species such as Bakaino (Melia azedarach), Chilaune (Schima wallichii), Katus (Castanopsis indica), Lauth Salla (Taxus baccata), Phalant (Quercus glauca) and Uttis (Alnus nepalensis) in the specified area of CCF. President of CCF, Mrs Sharada Subedi expressed her heartfelt gratitude for fostering the strength of the community forests by planting various species of trees.

President of Palung Jaycees, Mr Surendra Man Pradhan vividly shared the examples of successful ventures based on his own experience on various entrepreneurs such as managing a private school, investing on the Chandragri cable car, facilitating local capacity building programs, and volunteering for the road expansion. Prof RR Niroula made his remarked with a hope that the recipients of goats would generate substantial income and that would be a very good example for students to study.

During the 3-day field studies, the BDevS first year students conducted extensive field observations and household surveys on various aspects of development in and around the Makwanpur landscape contd pg 5.....

LIFE TALK SERIES AT NATIONAL COLLEGE

With the beginning of the year 2016, the National College students have initiated the "Life Talk" series. It is an innovative platform where inspiring, untold life stories of the leading personalities from different walks of life get unveiled.

Episode I: 'Sir of the Himalayas'

On 7th April 2016 was Mr Binod Shahi popularly known as 'Sir of the Himalayas'. He shared his stories of choosing Dolpa as a destination to educate the kids who are not fortunate enough to get the proper education infrastructures. "Every one of us has that inner eye of Buddha, the need is to direct in the things which can have better contribution for the society", he said.

Episode II: 'New Look into Nepali films'

On 9th May 2016, Mr Nischal Basnet, an actor, director, producer and singer, was the guest. Throughout the show the participants paid attention to various stories of Mr Banset who has been contributing his whole heart and effort to bring positive change in the Nepali films and Nepali Film Industry. Motivated from those frustrating items, he had committed himself to making a Nepali film according to the changing time and space, and he had directed for the movie "Loot" which had made a positive history in the film market.

Episode III: LGBTIQ Outlook

On 11th June 2015, Bhumika Shrestha, an LGBTIQ advocate, a youth activist and an event manager at the 'Blue Diamond Society', was invited as a guest. Bhumika Shrestha clarified the full-form of LGBTIQ as 'L' for Lesbian, 'G' for Gay, 'B' for Bisexual, 'T' for Transgender; 'I' for Intersex and 'Q' for Queer or Questioning. In short, she mentioned that an LGBTIQ right is the right of such people who can enjoy in society like other people do. She also clarified that LGBTIQ is not a problem in itself rather the problem is in the attitudes of some people who think LGBTIQ in negative sense.

Bhumika Shrestha explaining the LGBTIQ rights

Episode IV: 'Book – the Best Friend'

On 4th of July 2016 was graced by a popular Nepali writer, Mr Buddhi Sagar. Known for his award winning novel, Karnali Blues, Mr Buddhi Sagar explained that it was a small library in his neighborhood where he could borrow comics and detective novels by paying three Rupees a day. He also added that to be a professional and full time writer you need not quit your job, rather it would be realistic to test a few publications while on the job. He shared that 'book is the best friend'.

The life-talk shows have been successful with the initiatives taken by the students, college staff, faculties and friends, and with the active guidance of Assistant Program Coordinator Mr Damber Raj Bhatta.

COLLEGE OPEN DAY

Reetu Sharma

On July 31, 2016, the National College, Baluwater opened its premise to the prospective students and their parents/guardians with much fanfare. The objective of the event was to make college's programs and activities available and visible through creative presentations by the students, whereby the visitors had a chance to interact with the students, faculties and graduates and get detailed information about the college. There were information desks for our academic programs, classroom exhibits for Interactive Forums, College Association, Research, Internships and Volunteers, and Exchange programs. Prospective students even had a chance to appear in the mock test so that they would have some idea about the nature of the college's entrance test, and feel comfortable in appearing for the test. Visitors could also enjoy food stalls, games, live music and a very entertaining mascot who became an instant hit and brought smile in everyone's face. The event became a grand success with over 400 prospective students visiting our college who took with them valuable, hands on, and practical information which otherwise would not have been possible. The organization of the event also gave a learning opportunity to our existing students, who led and coordinated their teams and managed their assigned tasks very diligently and make 'open day' a grand and successful event of the college.

"GRADUATE OF THE MONTH: JUNE 2016" MS ARADHANA MALLA

Mahashankar Upadhyay BoSS (2013-17 batch)

The first episode of the "Graduate of the Month (GotM)", organized at the National College seminar hall on June 27, 2016, was graced by Ms Aradhana Malla Thapa who represents the very first batch (1999-2002) graduate of the National College. Currently, Ms Malla holds the position of a branch manager of the Thamel Branch of Bank of Kathmandu Lumbini. Commemorating the 20 years of 'Innovative Education' of the college, the current students, under the guidance of Assistant Program Coordinator Mr Damber R Bhatta, have brought an innovative idea of honoring the college graduates while bringing their stories connected to their career and gathering some practical advice to choose the best career options.

"Graduate of the Month: June 2016" Ms Aradhan Malla

After her graduation from the college in 2002, Ms Malla completed her Master in Business Administration (Finance) at Webster University in Thailand in 2004. She had admired that the pedagogy adopted at the National College was extremely useful and helpful for her master study to compete with the international students in the class. She gave an example of how the mathematical exercises were applicable in the very first task in her job at Asian Forum for Parliamentarian on Population and Development in Thailand in 2004-06.

Ms Malla concluded that time management was the most important aspect to balance the professional career in the office and the private life at home.

BATTLE OF THE PRESENTERS

Paris Tamang 29 June, 2016

The Battle began with National College, Baluwater hosting the very first session on June 8. Founders of Presentation Stuff Mr Prashanta Manandhar and Umes Shrestha judged the competition alongside Mr Ukesh Raj Bhujju and Mr Abhishek Maskey. Principal of National College Mr Madhav Neupane welcomed the panel of judges with a warm token of love. The event was hosted by Ms Neshma Tuladhar and coordinated by Ms Neha Banu Shah.

The participating presenters were given 10 minutes each to deliver their presentations. Every presentation was stunningly unique and spectacularly well crafted. The event ended with a guest presentation from the master of presentations- Abhishek Maskey himself. His presentation on the education system was creative, practical and balanced.

The presenters were then awarded with various titles and certificates. Swastik Pandey won the Intra Level Competition; he will be participating in the inter-college level competition that will be held in January where the winners of the 7 colleges will present to fight for the title of the ultimate presenter. Similarly, Keepa Tuladhar and Shristi Shakya were awarded with the 'Creative Presenter' title for their dual presentation while Robin Paudel got the title of 'The Story Teller' for his poetic presentation.

The Event ended with Paris Tamang delivering the vote of Thanks and rapping up the event by cordially thanking all the guests, participants and audience present for making the event successful.
